Somebody said that it couldn't be done ---
But he, with a grin, replied
He'd never be one to say it couldn't be done . . .
Leastway, not 'til he tried.

So he buckled right in, with a trace of a grin:
By golly, he went right to it.
He tackled The Thing That Couldn't Be Done.
And he couldn't do it!

SHOW COMMENTS

- Executive Secretary, Monroe.

The show season is over. I think all of us are glad to be able to rest on Saturday and Sunday, but at the same time a little sad that we won't be seing our friends so often. It was a good season.

May I make a few comments for your consideration? I am sure all of you will not agree with me, but here goes none the less.

By and large the judging was very good. We do need to work out some method of getting all the judges to judge the same way. Some are too tough and some too easy.

We had some bloom sent up with gold seals that should not have been given a gold seal. This does not bother me too much because when it comes to the voting for tri-colors these won't go any further. What does bother me, however, is the bloom that should get a gold seal, but is passed by. I don't think judges should withhold gold seals for a blemish that is so minor or small that they have to really hunt to find it. I don't like counting stigma pads either.

The suggestion has been made that we should have a senior judge to take bad bloom back to the judge team or to up-grade bloom overlooked. I don't like this idea. If the original team is not qualified they should not be judeing in the first place. I don't know the answer - maybe you do. If so drop a note to the Show and Judging Rules Chairman, First Vice President, Eric Golby, his address is on the inside front cover.

While speaking of judging, there was a bit of criticism tossed at the seedling judges. In their defense, this is the hardest category to judge. We all like our own seedlings better than the next guy's
